APA California Distance Education Program

As of September 17th, there have been 27 rentals of the Distance Education sessions that were compiled from sessions recorded at last year's state conference for a total income of $405. At the end of the year a check will be issued to the California Planning Foundation for all of the revenue received since the inception of the program. We are on track to record sessions from this year's state conference to once again create new Distance Education sessions.
