

PLANNER EMERITUS NETWORK BOARD BIOGRAPHIES

Matthew Winegar, AICP – Board Member

Matthew has over 38 years of public agency planning, project management, and organizational development experience, including 20 years as the Development Services Director for the City of Oxnard. Matthew has served as either the project planner or as the manager of many large scale residential, commercial planned development, master planned communities and business parks. He directed many different and varied land use special studies, two major General Plan updates, a Local Coastal Plan, and a Downtown Strategic Plan. He also has extensive experience in emergency management and land use planning.

Matthew has facilitated strategic planning and organizational improvements for several public and non-profit organizations. These include the Oxnard Performing Arts Center Board and the Oxnard Library Board. He has also served on non-profit organizations including the Gull Wings Children's Museum and the American Youth Soccer Organization (AYSO). Matthew received a bachelor in Public Administration, Planning and Geography from California State University, Chico.