

American Planning Association
California Chapter
Planner Emeritus Network

Creating Great Communities for All

2021 PLANNERS EMERITUS NETWORK HONORS AWARDS

The Planners Emeritus Network (PEN) is pleased to recognize six highly qualified planners who have made significant contributions to the field of planning, APA, and to their communities.

Terry Hayes, AICP

Terry Hayes is a practicing urban planner. He has over 45 years of experience in project management, agency coordination, and public participation focus on compliance with CEQA and NEPA, particularly in disadvantaged communities. He has managed his own environmental planning firm for over 35 years, serving clients throughout the United States.

John Hildebrand III

John Hildebrand has made significant contributions to the planning profession while serving on the Inland Empire Section in many capacities, including two terms as Section Director. John has been instrumental in creating a Young Emerging Planners group and has been recognized with APACA Section and Chapter awards.

Bob Lagomarsino, AICP

Bob Lagomarsino has been a practicing planner for over 35 years, providing consulting service to communities and agencies throughout the United States. Bob sits on the board of a redevelopment agency, and has extensive experience in land use and transportation planning. Bob has served in several capacities at the Section and Chapter level for APACA, including as a Section Director, conference co-chair, and VP for Conferences.

Rick Rust, AICP

Rick Rust has almost 40 years of experience as a land use planner. He has managed projects in over 30 states and territories with and emphasis in general plans and housing elements. Rich was a leader in the application of GIS technology to complex planning challenges.

Elizabeth Tyler, Ph.D, FAICP

Libby Tyler has over 35 years of planning experience in California and Illinois. She has been involved in seeking innovation solutions to planning issues throughout her career and education. Libby serves on the board of the APACA Northern Section as well as Vice Chair of the National APA Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion Committee.

Martin Wachs, Ph.D

Martin Wachs was a renowned transportation scholar, serving as a professor, mentor, and author for over five decades at UCLA, UC Berkeley, and the RAND Corporation. The field of transportation has been shaped by his early and consistent commitment to issues of social equality and access to opportunity. Martin passed away in April 2021 and leaves behind a community of students, colleagues, friends and family whom he has influenced.